

Police protection issue is closed for time being - Reeve

The issue of police protection in Haliburton village is "closed for the time being" according to Dysart et al Reeve Murray Fearrey.

Reeve Fearrey made the comment after a letter was read at the last council meeting from the Solicitor General John MacBeth to Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins.

The letter stated, "Commissioner Harold Graham (of the Ontario Provincial Police) has supplied me with a copy of a most comprehensive report on the policing within the Minden O.P.P. detachment area."

Mr. MacBeth said that the four specific complaints of tardy response to calls put in by persons in Haliburton were examined.

"Two of them maybe were justifiable," he noted. The solicitor general pointed out that actual times and dates were not given and because of this a reason for the delay could not be ascertained.

"One of the other incidents was a minor accident and when the Haliburton resident called, a constable was taking a statement from an accused person. This task was concluded, the constable drove 18 miles to the accident scene arriving 45 minutes after the original call. I do not consider the time factor excessive in these circumstances," Mr. MacBeth commented.

He noted that the remaining occurrence involving a complaint about a noisy party, took place in August and was reported via the Zenith 50,000 telephone number.

"Due to other commitments, an officer was not dispatched immediately and when the officer arrived two hours later, the problem had ceased to exist," he said.

"I am satisfied with the conclusion noted in the report that no advantage would be gained by opening a new detachment in Haliburton, particularly in view of the considerable restraints placed on the budget and authorized manpower of the Force," he noted.

Mr. MacBeth said that the Ontario Provincial Police has a continuing program on manpower allotment review. "The situation in Haliburton County is being monitored and should a need for change be identified, appropriate action will be taken," he added.

Official plan is not for county

The Ministry of Housing does not think an official plan is exactly what the County of Haliburton needs at this time.

In a letter sent to every clerk in Haliburton County, from T.S. Kennedy, senior planner, central region, of the Ministry, it is pointed out that representatives of the Ministry met with the County Planning Committee to discuss the matter of definition of the County Planning area on February 25.

"Since the early 1970's there has been intermittent discussion on this point, and with the approval of the Dysart official plan, many of the other municipalities in the county are of the opinion that they too would like the benefits provided by an official plan," it stated in the letter.

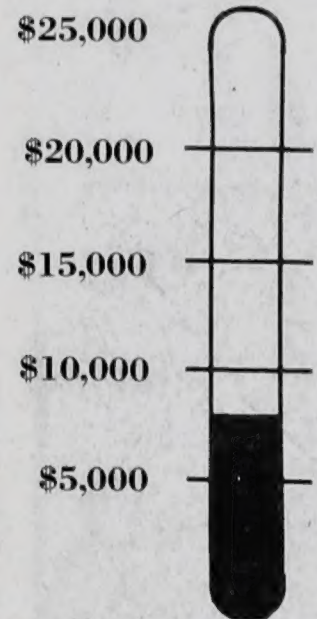

One of the problems the Ministry has foreseen in getting an official plan is that the Planning Act is now being reviewed and it is possible that major revisions will be made to it which could have very direct implications for the form, content, and disposition of any new official plan.

"With a project as major as a County Plan, it was felt that all options would have to be considered carefully before a major undertaking was commissioned," it said in the letter.

It was noted that the Ministry representatives emphasized the desirability of having a county planner to help co-ordinate and advise on local planning matters.

"The committee was reluctant to consider this option, however, in the absence of ongoing provincial support for such a staff person. Such support cannot, of course, be provided.

Arena fund

A total of $8,305 has been collected towards the goal of $25,000 for the repairs and improvements to the Dysart Community Centre. There was $50 collected last week. Included with the project will be a heating system in the area of the seats.

Hundreds of people jammed the Watson Memorial Centre, in Wilberforce, on Saturday, for the Maple Syrup Festival, so it meant getting a lot of maple syrup ready to put on the many hundreds of pancakes that were sold. The festival was held to raise money for a new arena to be built in Wilberforce. Page 3

$146,000 granted for projects in local riding

A total of $146,000 in grants including funds to the municipality of Dysart et al, Stanhope Township and a new curling rink in Haliburton village has been allocated to the federal riding of Victoria-Haliburton under the Canada Works Program. Dysart et al will receive $24,866 to remove dead elm trees in a regional environmental improvement program. Stanhope is getting $21,997 for a general needs project and the new curling rink will receive $7,014.

A total of $30,085 has been allocated for a drop in child care centre in Lindsay, $16,474 for a fire hall project in Somerville, $22,156 to Galway Cavendish, $11,655 to Longford Memorial Church for restorations and $11,795 for the development and expansion of Camp Adelaide near Haliburton.

In a release from MP William Scott it is noted, "Canada Works is a new job creation program administered under the Ministry of Manpower and Immigration. It is scheduled to run for over a five year period and the allocations announced this week are for phase one of the program."

Some 15 applications were received and all were considered by a Ministerial Advisory Group who assessed each according to their individual merits. Mr. Scott said. He pointed out that final approval for the project had to be given by the Minister.

Mr. Scott said, "Phase II of the program, has an application deadline date of August 26, 1977. Following projects to commence at the end of October. In addition, a youth element entitled 'Young Canada Works' will operate through the summer months."

Mr. Scott pointed out that an announcement regarding the 'Young Canada Works' is expected within a few days.

Snowdon signs fire agreement with Dysart

A fire agreement for the protection of the portion on

$1,265 is stolen from local residence

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police is investigating the theft of $1,265, in goods from a residence on East Moores Lake Road.

The owner of the home is Arthur B. Dowden. There was also $25 damage.

Stolen from the home was a television, lamps, antiques, camera, two guns and liquor.

The incident occurred during the past two weeks.

Snowdon Township formerly protected by agreement with Anson, Hinton and Minden has been signed for the current year with the municipality of Dysart et al. Anson, Hinton and Minden Reeve, Reg Booth, noted that there have been some problems with the fire agreement which was to have been settled in January for 1977.

Snowdon Clerk, Jeff Wynne, said that there was nothing wrong with the service that the Township had been receiving from Anson, Hinton and Minden but that the financial end with Dysart was seen to be more reasonable.

Mr. Booth said that the agreement that Anson, Hinton and Minden offered was "based on a sound assessment that we figured was fair." He noted that there have been quite a few fires in Snowdon that Anson, Hinton and Minden were called to in past years and that protection was not something that the municipality intended to do for nothing.

The agreement, signed at dysart council Monday, set a standby fee of $500 for the year, for the protection of the portions of the township serviced by Highway 519 from the Dysart boundary, south and west to Highway 121 and on the east side of highway 121 from Highway 519 north to the Minden Township boundary and all establishments serviced by the Minden Gelert Road.

Dysart offers its services on a total cost basis. Beyond the set fee of $500, Snowdon will be charged with the actual costs of fighting a fire within those limits of the township.

Minden's fire agreement has in the past, and again this year proposed an hourly charge for fighting a fire in addition to a standby fee. The offer made to Snowdon this year was a standby fee of $1,500 per annum. Hourly, Snowdon would have been charged $100 for the first hour and $40 for every additional hour.

Arena grant

Dysart considers helping Monmouth

Dysart et al will consider helping Monmouth Township in raising money for a new arena and could help offset an operating deficit which has occurred in the past few years in the old arena. There has been an operating deficit of $4,209.99 in 1975, $9,397.45 in 1976 and a projected deficit of $6,808.19 in 1977.

Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey said that his municipality would consider the proposals during its budget discussions in a couple of weeks.

Reeve Fearrey said that he didn't want the municipality responsible for a percentage of an operating deficit over the next few years.

A delegation comprised of Don Herbert, chairman of the Monmouth Arena Board, and Keith Tallman, deputy reeve of the municipality, attended the last meeting of Dysart Council.

In a report read by Mr. Herbert it was pointed out that Harcourt Township, which is part of Dysart et al, has about 17 percent of the population of the Wilberforce area. There is 34 percent in Monmouth Township, 25 percent in Glamorgan and 24 percent in Cardiff.

The report suggested that Monmouth Township be responsible for 54 percent of the deficit, Harcourt Township 18 percent and Glamorgan and Cardiff, 14 percent each.

It was pointed out that Monmouth Township and to a lesser degree, Harcourt Township, gain the most use of the facility at this time.

Association for retarded looking for aid from public

People who think that the mentally retarded can't be helped, that they are limited to basket weaving, that they have no potential, are being asked to think again.

They are being asked to consider how the mentally retarded can learn new skills, reach new goals, and develop their independence, and the group that is doing the asking is the Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded. They are also asking for funds to set up a residence for retarded adults in the area.

The Association is winding up for its part in an annual nation-wide campaign for funds, through the Flowers of Hope project. The campaign begins in Haliburton County, as it does in the rest of the country, on May 9, and volunteers are presently being recruited as canvassers.

Haliburton canvassers this year will have an exciting proposal to discuss and will be asking for funds to be used close to home. The Haliburton Association for the Mentally Retarded hopes to see plans that have been on the books for a year, for a home for mentally retarded adults, take solid shape before the end of 1977.

Debbie Taylor, who works with the Association, noted that the residence for mentally retarded adults will depend on generous government support, but will also rely heavily on funds raised by the local association.

Money from the Flowers of Hope campaign will go to all aspects of work with the mentally retarded that the Association supports, as well as to the establishment of the residence, including the workshop at the Lakeview Centre, in Haliburton, that employs eight mentally retarded adults in programs and production throughout the week.

The residence, for the adults, is now within sight and with the support of the community through the upcoming campaign, the Association hopes to make it a reality.

Sewers may have emptied water well

Vittoria Formica claims that since the sewers were first put in Haliburton Village her well has gone dry and it is the fault of the sewer installation.

After talking to their consultant on the project, Dysart Council agrees that the sewers may be responsible, but Mrs. Formica bought the land in 1975, after the sewers were in.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said that all the council can do is pursue the problem on her behalf with the Ministry of Environment.

The council feels though, that a second complaint by Mrs. Formica, concerning smell in her house, is not their responsibility. The council feels that the smell is caused by Mrs. Formica's plumbing.

Fill for high school playing field playing

The Municipality of Dysart et al will be giving some fill to the Haliburton County Board of Education from the sewer project but Reeve Murray Fearrey is wondering if Minden is doing the same from their sewer project.

The fill will be used to extend the playing field at the high school in order that a 400 metre track can be constructed.

Reeve Fearrey said that he doesn't see any of the fill being hauled from Minden.

He pointed out that Dysart would co-operate but the municipality would take its share first.

Official plan is not recommended for area

out that through the course of the discussion it became apparent that one or two major issues are underlying the suggested need for an official plan. These are the perceived demand for rural or estate subdivisions (in areas removed from existing villages and hamlets) and the lack of clear guidelines on rural consent applications (the result being that strip development is being undertaken as an alternative to rural or estate subdivisions).

"Of particular interest to the Ministry representatives was the general consensus of those present that lakeshore development is largely a non-issue at the present time...that is, the day-of lake development is over and in many respects there is no reason to go in and spend massive amounts of time and money on lake studies since it's accepted in many areas that existing development, capacity constraints, and ratepayer "enthusiasm" make lake development in this area a declining game in the years to come. The next frontier, as it were, is the inland areas which appear to have an attraction for both the weekend crowd and retirement people," it said in the letter.

It was pointed out that by leaving the lakes as a side and perhaps dormant issue, it appeared to the Ministry staff that some effort should be made to assist the County interest in the planning of the rural areas in order to try to resolve the occasionally strenuous dialogue between the municipalities and the province on plans of subdivision and consents.

"We still aren't quite sure what may come out of these efforts, but we did lean toward some sort of planning guidelines which would deal with the whole rural development issue in a fairly comprehensive fashion and perhaps overcome the current difficulties in the area," it was noted.

Based on the meeting, the Ministry agreed to circulate a questionnaire to each council in the County, to probe in a little more detail the nature of concerns and interests in the planning exercise.

"We will analyse the responses and meet again with the Planning Committee on April 18th, to review what options are available which could assist the local planning interests. It may well be necessary to hire a consultant to advance the project if there is a consensus achieved on what must be done. We want to help work out some of the concepts with the Committee initially, however, and then you will have a better idea on what sort of consulting expertise is required. With our planning grant programme we should be able to provide some assistance toward any such costs, and as well, we would endeavour to assist in the actual selection of the consultants to ensure that the project can be carried through successfully," the letter stated.

At this stage, the letter emphasized that no commitments have been made in terms of financial support or a loosening of policy regarding rural development.

"as we noted at the meeting, we feel there are many implications connected with rural development which are undesirable from a provincial and local economic point of view. We have agreed though to help the County take a look at a rural development policy as a whole, and we will be as open minded as possible through the discussion phase so as to ensure that the County is satisfied with whatever decision the Committee recommends," the letter said.

"Just to note in passing, the zoning by-law projects now underway in the County are not affected in any way by our discussions. We strongly urge the municipalities to pursue the approval of their zoning by-laws.

"Please find attached a questionnaire which we would like to have filled out and returned to us by April 12th if possible. If there are any questions on this or other matters, please contact Brian Goodreid or myself, it said.

Bill Smiley Someone cares

There's no question about it. Somebody-up-There does look after us poor, forked creatures here below. I have proof.

When I left you last week, I was in the throes of ferocious agony in the back. Neither the doctor nor I knew whether it was a slithering disc, a boulder in my kidneys trying to escape, or leprosy of the liver.

A week later, we still don't know. X-rays were taken, but the doc hasn't received them yet. Of course, it's a whole mile from the hospital, where they were taken, to his office, so that's explainable. They probably sent them by mail.

But the pain has eased off to a dull grind, and that's the reason for my opening statement. There does seem to be a Great Plan, and maybe Somebody does see us little sparrows fall.

Because just as my back was emerging from the acute stage, I succumbed to that gross, disgusting, shuddering, juddering, sweating, gripping, embarrassing, exhausting ailment known euphemistically, even when it occurs in March, as the "summer flu". Or, in less lady-like circles, "The dire rear."

Now, I know perfectly well that had the two concurred, the bad back that made me scream when I lifted a sheet of paper, and the exigencies of my other ailment, this would be an obituary column. Doesn't that prove that the meek shall inherit the earth? Or something.

You may think that is a bit simple-minded, or a coincidence. But the process, once begun, went right on.

My wife had decided to redecorate the living room. She bought the paint, made a contract with the painter, and the work began, while I lay around shivering and wondering which end of my candle was going to burn next.

Horror. The paint was all wrong. Instead of a delicate, cool green, it went on the wall as a cold whitey-blue, about the shade you'd find on the walls of a penitentiary cell.

After one day's painting, she was near tears. Didn't sleep a wink. But, and here's where good old Abounding Grace comes in, came a solution. The special deity that looks after poor, downcast, middle-aged people who are either plunging into the Depths of Despair, or sea sickly navigating Dire Straits, came to the rescue.

Since I was too weak, she had to put out the garbage. While she was doing so, she came across an old color chart for paint that had exactly the shade she wanted on the walls.

Shrieks of joy. Off to the hardware, hammering on the door before they were open. Back home, before the painter arrived, with another $50 worth of paint. Perfect! Joy reigns supreme in the Smiley psychiatric ward.

Perhaps you're still skeptical. Maybe you don't believe that a Higher Power is looking after you-know-who.

Graduates from auction college

The officers and directors of Western College of Auctioneering announce the graduation of Warren F. Peel.

He has completed the intensified course of Auctioneering, Public Speaking, and Sale Management and is qualified to conduct Auction Sales. Western College is a nationally recognized Auctioneer training centre, having graduates working in nearly every state and all provinces of Canada. The Auction method of selling has gained headway continually since colonial days and today is accepted in all transactions of selling produce, livestock, merchandise, real estate, personal properties, in fact nearly everything has been, or can be sold at Auction.

The National Auctioneers Association, with offices in Lincoln, Nebraska, has a membership of over three thousand auctioneers, with which Warren F. Peel is now affiliated.

Consider these facts. My wife informed me, and I had to agree, because I was too shaky to argue, that she had actually saved money on the deal. This may seem silly, as we had doubled the paint requirements for a room thirty feet long, eighteen feet wide, and eleven feet high. Not so. If we'd stuck with the first paint, we'd have had to throw out the old drapes, and spend about $250 on new ones, because the old ones didn't go with the new paint, if you're still with me. We save vast sums like this all the time.

Maybe you begin to see the pattern now. But that's not all. Because I was too sick and weak and shaky to write a column or mark exam papers, I cleaned out my drawers. Please. This had nothing to do with the dire rear previously mentioned. I'm referring to the drawers in my desk. It's all I was fit for, physically, mentally, or emotionally.

And I found some tremendous stuff in there. Hundreds of letters, unanswered. Two requests from publishers to put my column into book form. Five requests to be guest speaker at something or other. A padlock for a school locker. Ancient, paid-off mortgages. Eighteen paper clips and twelve rubber bands and seven pencils. A copy of my will, unsigned. Two insurance policies I didn't know I had. Two hundred old columns. Fifteen addresses I'd been looking for years. A copy of a great editorial I once wrote, entitled, "Sex and the Editor."

A letter from my daughter, aged ten, at camp, wanting to come home at once. A letter from same daughter, aged eighteen, saying insouciantly, from Montreal, "If you ever want to see me again, send some bread, as I have one cent." We sent.

Old stock certificates, impressively printed, total value three dollars as wallpaper. Letters from my son from Alaska, Halifax, Mexico City, Jerusalem, Paraguay, New Orleans.

Letters from nice old ladies who scold me gently for my vulgarity. Letters from vulgar old men who scold me roundly for not "letting 'er rip."

Letters from former students (mostly girls), who perhaps used me as a surrogate father or older brother or uncle, who tell me all their troubles, and who have now quite forgotten me, alas.

I won't go on. It was a combination of Aladdin's cave and Pandora's box.

But I do want you to get the theme. If I hadn't had a sore back, I'd never have had it get better so that I could survive the dire rear.

Four car accidents

During the week of April 4 to 10 members of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated four motor vehicle collisions and 63 general occurrences.

There were 13 break-ins reported, three compassionate messages delivered, two persons charged with Liquor Licence Act violations and two persons charged with impaired driving.

Controlling development

The Municipality of Galway-Cavendish has made an attempt to control development with the passing of a zoning bylaw and a building bylaw at the council's last meeting. Reeve Carl Brickman told the Recorder that the zoning bylaw is just an interim measure until comprehensive zoning bylaws can be made to accompany an official plan.

He said that the building bylaw and the zoning bylaw will help control development, not stop it. Reeve Brickman added that the bylaws "will put them in a good light with the Ministry of Housing," in regards to a number of grant programs. The building bylaw basically establishes the standard Ontario Building Code with some additional items.

For details on the bylaws see the Galway-Cavendish Council minutes on the district pages of The Recorder.

ARDA is continuing

William Scott, MP, Victoria-Haliburton, expressed concern in the house of commons recently about the fate of the ARDA program.

He said, "In view of the fact that countless municipalities throughout Ontario are expressing their concern regarding the impending expiration of the ARDA program in that province, will the minister indicate when the renewal will be signed by the federal government.

Marcel Lessard, Minister of Regional Economic Expansion, said that negotiations are going on now. "I hope that we will come to a conclusion within a few weeks and sign the extension to the ARDA agreement."

Two single vehicle during past week

A single vehicle accident on Highway 35, South of Minden, Sunday resulted in $900 damage to a car driven by John William Bentham, 18, of Agincourt.

The car struck guide rails causing a total of $105 damage.

Bentham has been charged with impaired driving.

The accident took place at 2:15 a.m.

An accident on a private cottage road April 6, resulted in $450 damage to a car driven by Boyd C. Jarvis, 26, of Minden.

The accident took place in the Eagle Lake area.

Over crowded airwaves

In the past 6 months, citizen band radio has become a very popular craze. In both the U.S. and Canada. In Canada, people purchasing this type of equipment are required by law to licence their set(s) with the Department of Communications. When you receive a licence to operate radio equipment you also receive extracts from the general radio regulations, Part 2, for your information and guidance. In heavily populated areas G.R.S. operating has become almost impossible due to the cluttering of channels. Fortunately Haliburton has not reached this situation yet, but the possibility exists.

Channel 09 is an emergency frequency and also a call channel for the REACT organization in Haliburton. May we suggest that unless you are a REACT base, that you move to channel 11 for a call channel so as to allow the REACT bases to operate more effectively. Skip Handles are not recognized by the D.O.C. So please use XM numbers at all times, and remember it is not necessary to "Break" a clean channel.

Al Blanchard accompanies one of the contestants in the amateur contest at the Legion. The contestant is Marion Gilles of Haliburton. Leroy Nesbitt, of Minden, took top honours and got to take home a stereo, while Raymond Johnson, of Guilford, was second and Wendy Nesbitt, of Minden, was third. There were 15 contestants.

Council Capsules from Dysart et al

The Municipality of Dysart et al has received approval for a Ministry of Natural Resources Experience '77 program. The program will include the hiring of two university students for 14 weeks, two community college students for 13 weeks and eight high school students for seven weeks. The total grant for the program is $15,250.

A fire protection agreement has been passed by Dysart Council to protect a portion of Snowdon Township. Snowdon will pay $500 plus costs for the year.

The August Civic Holiday has been officially changed to Sept. 17 by the Municipality of Dysart et al.

Dysart Council has agreed to by a tandem truck from Curry Motors. Curry's had the lowest tender on the truck. The price is $33,289.02.

Youths charged

Three Gooderham youths have been charged with theft under $200 in an incident involving the siphoning of gasoline from busses.

Charged in connection with an incident at LaRue Bus Lines, April 7, were Parry Allan Dewey, 19, Edward Arnold Dewey, 16, and George Edward Adams, 19.

Tourism students are exchanging with Quebec

Four tourism students from Sir Sandford Fleming College in Peterborough and four from Sherbrooke C.G.-E.P. at Granby, Quebec, are involved in what may be the first Ontario-Quebec college student exchange which covers one full semester.

Sir Sandford Fleming French instruction co-ordinator Rose Mae Johnstone said she knows of no other exchange program involving both a full semester and total use of the exchange language for textbooks and classroom lectures.

"The only exception to the use of the exchange language", Mrs. Johnstone said. She noted that while discussions between Peterborough and Granby began about two years ago, final arrangements were completed too late for any government financial assistance that might have been available for students, although the Ontario government did pay expenses for some exploratory visits by Sir Sandford students and faculty.

As a result, the exchange students pay all their own expenses. To make their

Maple syrup for a new arena

Sterling Mather, of Orono, formerly of Monmouth Township, flips a pancake into the air at the Maple Syrup Festival held in Wilberforce last Saturday to help build a new arena. The other cook, looking out from behind the pancake, is Bruce Tennant, also of Orono.

The Wilberforce Maple Syrup Festival featured many things, including a pancake breakfast, bake tables and craft tables, but the biggest thing of all was still the maple syrup itself. Here we see bottle after bottle lined up on a table for sale.

There was much more to the Wilberforce Maple Syrup Festival than maple syrup. As well as serving pancakes in the Watson Memorial Centre there was also a sale of various goods held. Among the popular items at the sale were the many baked goods brought in by residents of the area.

Education Week in Ontario is April 17-23.

Here's how you can find out more about your child's school.

Now is a good time for you to become personally acquainted with your local school.

During Education Week, stop in for a visit and discover what your children are learning. Get to know the principal and teacher. Find out more about the activities.

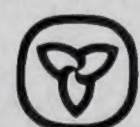

While you're there, ask about the new "community school" concept which invites participation by parents in making the local school something of a community centre for neighbourhood activities and programs. "Community school" is an idea developed by your Ontario Ministry of Education and is a partnership of school and community - people working together for everybody's sake.

If you would like a free copy of our book about community schools, "Open Doors: A Community School Handbook" - in English or French - write to:

Haliburton's first Pirate's Bonanza

Haliburton's first Pirate's Bonanza ended last Saturday and all of the excitement that went with it is over. This treasure Chest hunt which was sponsored by most of the Haliburton merchants was a great success and it caused more excitement than this village has seen for many a day.

People came from all over the county and many parts of Ontario to try their keys in the hope of winning one or more of the many prizes and cash which were offered that totalled well over $2300.00.

Most of the treasure chests were opened and the winners were more than pleased with their prizes.

Hundreds of people took part in the Pirate's Bonanza and many have told us that they haven't had so much fun in years just going around trying their keys and meeting many of their old friends. Most of them didn't worry about winning, but it was the fun they had in participating. For many it was the first time that they had been in certain business places in the community, and some revealed to us that it was hard to believe that they had lived here all their lives and had never been in all of the stores.

When the Pirate's Bonanza started on March 30th we had no guarantee whether it would be a success or a failure. As it turned out we couldn't have asked for anymore and we along with the participating merchants are more than pleased with the great response and results.

We are the first to admit that this was our first try at this new venture and we did run into a few flaws and problems that will be ironed out the next time around.

Most of the participating merchants in Haliburton's first Pirate's Bonanza can hardly wait until the next one and some who did not participate this time around told us to put them down on the list for the next one. Keep reading The Echo for the announcement of the next Pirate's Bonanza.

Interest in area

The Lake Miskwabi Cottagers' Association has reaffirmed this newspaper's faith that these groups truly have the interest of the community in mind.

In their February Newsletter to their members it is pointed out that the Dysart Arena is in need of repairs.

The letter stated, "Your contributions, at this time, will be of great assistance in assuring that the arena will continue to serve the community."

The cottagers do get some use out of the arena, but even more than that the local people get the benefit of having an arena, which in turn makes the area more appealing for people to live and gives the cottagers a good downtown area to shop in when they are here for the summer.

The Dysart Arena is important to everyone who pays taxes in the municipality.

Better scheduling

The Haliburton and Minden Figure Skating Clubs held their annual carnivals last Sunday with only one hour difference in the starting time.

There should be some communications between the two clubs before these productions are put on. There are people in Haliburton County who would have liked to take in both events.

Both shows were excellent but it was impossible to see the two of them.

We would suggest that the clubs put their heads together for next year and decide on dates for their carnivals that will be at least one day apart and better still, a week.

Haliburton Highlights

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

Last Thursday evening we had quite a snow storm here in Haliburton and we want to take this opportunity to thank the Road crews of both the Municipality of Dysart and the Ministry of Transportation and Communications for their fine efforts of getting out early and keeping the roads and highways in good driving conditions.

Martin Wormold was a recent guest speaker at the Haliburton Rotary Club. He gave a very interesting talk on alarm systems.

Last Thursday afternoon there were certainly a lot of local people absent from work for a few hours as they got hung up with watching the Toronto Blue Jays play their first Major League Baseball game. It was a very exciting ball game and it was good to see them get started off on a winning game.

The ice will be coming out the Haliburton Arena and repair work will soon be starting with glass being placed around the entire ice surface, the seating area will be heated and new cement seats will be installed. Many changes will be made before the Haliburton Hockey Haven swings into operation.

This coming Saturday, April 16th at 7:00 p.m. the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship Dinner will be held at Deer Lodge. The guest speaker will be Mr. George Dumoulin a general contractor from the Peterborough area. George has had many opportunities to share Christ with others. Born French Canadian and raised as a Roman Catholic he accepted Christ as his Lord and Saviour 25 years ago. Two years ago, he served in missionary work in Montreal. There are many interesting aspects to George's life in Christ which he would like to share with us. Come and hear his story, you'll be glad you did.

Mike's Milk who now has stores in Haliburton and Minden has branched out and now has opened a new store in Cobocok.

In Rotary each member is to give his classification talk. It has been demonstrated on many occasions this year that a classification talk by one of the members can be very informative and interesting. Such was the case recently when Rolly Letourneau gave a very interesting and humorous classification talk on his career in the automotive business.

Norman Eade of Haliburton will be the guest speaker when the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen hold their monthly communion and breakfast at St. George's Anglican Church in Haliburton this coming Saturday, April 17th at 8:00 a.m. Norm will have a very interesting message and one that you won't want to miss.

We understand that tenders will soon be going out to various contractors to the second phase of the Haliburton sanitary sewer system. This is sure good news.

Recently the Kindergarten students from the Victoria Street School in Haliburton had the opportunity of going by bus to the sugar bush owned by Harry Cowen at Blairhampton. The children had a grand time seeing the operation and being shown how maple syrup is made.

Editor's notebook

BY JIM BADGLEY

Back when I started in the newspaper business I worked for a paper that ran a column by a local person called "So this is Preston". Well every time I think back to those days and think of that name I wonder if a So this is type of approach would work around here.

One could think of many, So this is expressions. For example "So this is Haliburton" where you need a front end alignment on your car after driving along 121 coming into the west end of the town.

"So this is Haliburton", where in the winter there is enough parking for everyone downtown, but everyone decides to park on the street anyway just to make us feel like it is summer.

"So this is Haliburton", the town of the only traffic signal lights in Haliburton County.

"So this is Haliburton", where the provincial government told municipal officials that the town would be able to get sewers but then sat back and let the officials come begging, year after year, after year.

"So this is Haliburton," the head waters for the Trent Canal system, something that had to be explained to the Ministry of Environment before the sewers went through.

"So this is Haliburton", where sometimes you get the feeling you are out in the middle of nowhere, but when you look at a map you see that we are really just down the road from the economic centre of Canada.

Because the village and the county have the same name the saying can be applied to the larger area.

"So this is Haliburton", where only one of our lakes has some sort of mercury contamination. (To bad Muskoka).

"So this is Haliburton", where there are signs as you enter the area which state "You are Entering the Haliburton Highlands".

"So this is Haliburton", where the people from outside of the area think that it is out in the bush and the people inside the area will keep telling them that.

"So this is Haliburton", a great place to live.

The Junior Band put forth an excellent effort for their first competition in the North Hastings Music Festival in Bancroft, Wednesday, April 6. Anne-Marie Vanlieshout won first place in here solo French horn class with a mark of 85. Dennis Stribling placed second in his trumpet solo class with a mark of 80. The woodwind quartet, comprised of Shelley Hicks, Debbie Holland, Cindy Manley and Jocelyn Kennedy, tied for first place with 80 marks. The Junior Band won first place with a mark of 84. Congratulations!

Our boys' junior and senior volleyball teams competed strongly in the Norwood tournament held Wednesday, April 6. The juniors won two games and lost four while the seniors split three wins and three losses. Highlight of the day was a tremendous comeback victory in which our seniors fought back from a 13-2 deficit to defeat Norwood 16-14.

This week's 50-Mile Club results are Miss Keohler - 48 miles, Mr. Brohman - 31 miles, Karen Bell - 30 miles, Warren Aggett - 27 miles, Mr. Oakley - 25 miles, Wayne O'Neil - 19 miles, Barry Devolin - 18 miles, Mr. Lerpiniere - 18 miles and Becky Davidson - 12 miles.

Congratulations to the girls' gymnastic team for their outstanding effort at the Kawartha Gymnastic meet on Wednesday, April 6. Their hard work during the year resulted in smooth performance by all.

The Glee Club's annual rehearse-a-thon was successfully staged Monday, April 11. All members were sponsored for ten hours of rehearsal and worked diligently all day in preparation for this year's Gilbert and Sullivan production of Ruddigore. Their first performance will be held April 15, in Bancroft, which will include an afternoon student performance as well as one in the evening for the public.

As others see it

The two major problems facing all Canadians are national unity and unemployment. National unity has always been an outstanding issue, even from long before Confederation, and will be a problem for a long time to come.

I see a great danger for all of Canada if the federal government concentrates its attention, and that of the public, on separatism to such a degree that our national economic difficulties are ignored. Our national economy is now, and has been for some time, skating on very thin ice as we become less and less able to compete in world markets for manufactured or even semi-manufactured products. The direct and immediate result is lost jobs now and less job growth for the future.

We develop a vicious circle of inflation, falling productivity, high interest rates and little economic growth. Those who are well organized in pressure groups or strong, established unions can often keep ahead of the wolves on the trail. For the pensioners, the non-organized workers, the self-employed, and the small businessman, the budget tightens and the alternatives narrow.

This applies throughout Canada with the exception of Alberta and other energy-rich areas. It is a greater problem in Quebec than in Ontario and indicates to me the fallacy of Mr. Levesque stating that Quebec is economically better off on its own.

Modern economics depend on specialization and efficiency of scale. On the world scale, Canada as a whole, is a small frog in a big pond, as shown by our faltering manufacturing sector. Relatively speaking, Quebec would be only a tadpole in that economic pond - and would be eaten by a turtle in short order.

It makes little sense to me for some people to have to work harder and longer to make more money and pay greater income taxes to maintain those who are physically able to look after their own needs if only they had a job. There are thousands of people who wish to work but can't find employment.

At the same time, there are national, provincial and local worthwhile projects which need to be done and would be beneficial to the Canadian community for years to come. Projects such as electrification of the railways or oil and gas pipelines from the Arctic would employ thousands directly and indirectly all through Canada. At the same time, energy self-sufficiency would give our manufacturing future a tremendous boost and could make us a world leader once again.

There is no future in doing what was done in Labrador's Churchill Falls Hydro project and what is now being done in Quebec's James Bay Hydro project - that is simply selling our electrical energy to the United States. That enables the United States to establish manufacturing mills and employ thousands. Some of those jobs might otherwise have been Canadian.

Cheap energy is going to be a crucial key to job creation and a high standard of living. At the same time, it is crucial to national independence, free from the dictates of an Arab cartel, which tells France what to do or not to do.

The cost of any project comes down to that of having available manpower. The unemployment rolls show that manpower is available. It is time that all governments got together and made use of it as it guarantees future prosperity and freedom.

Provincial Conservative Candidate.

This and That

BY JENNIFER WOODS

The avocado is a most interesting fruit that contains large quantities of vitamin C. Although they are quite expensive to buy in Canada they are really worth that extra difference that they add to salads. They are a very delicate fruit. They should be purchased slightly under ripe and be matured in your home at 70 F. To stop the flesh from browning sprinkle with lemon or pineapple juice. When adding avocado to cooked foods add at the last minute. One of the most famous avocado recipe is Avocado Spread. Peel one or two avocados and mash into a pulp with a fork add lemon juice and salt, with a very small amount of tomato pulp. This can be heaped on crackers or toast and is great at a party. Garnish with paprika and parsley. or Guacamole.

Have ready a combination of 1 peeled, seeded, chopped ripe tomato and 1 finely, chopped scallion, chopped green pepper, 1/2 teaspoon chili powder, 1 teaspoon olive oil, tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon coriander; and salt and pepper. Add all these ingredients to 2 mashed ripe avocados. Whether you use the easy or more complex spread you will be pleased with the results.

While I was at our Haliburton Library, I was pleased to find an excellent book on how to care for house plants. "The Color Handbook of House Plants" by Elvin McDonald, Jacqueline Heriteau and Francesca Morris. I thought they dealt very well with the care and nurturing of the Avocado from pit to full growth. They suggest to avoid spindly plants stick the 3 toothpicks equidistant around a pit. Place pointed end up and with at least 1/2 inch of base submerged in a glass jar of water. Keep in a dark closet and add water as needed. Move to light when sprout shows leaves. When the plant is 8 inches tall cut it back to 4 inches (the hardest thing to do!) When it is again 8 inches, pot in moist soil leaving top third of pit exposed. Place in a bright but sunless spot for a week then move to a better light. They also have a second method; wash pit, let it dry overnight. Pot in moist soil with the top third of the pit exposed. Place in an east or west window and keep the soil evenly moist. Pinch growing tips often to induce branching.

They also suggest to mist everyday to avoid red spider-mite attack. I have found with my own plants this winter that they fare very well if they are watered and misted at the same time each morning. This is a very natural time of the day because of course if your plants were outside they would be covered with dew at this time. Just like people plants enjoy a routine.

COUNTY ECHO FAMILY

Maple Lake News

by Ada Gibbs

Mr. & Mrs. Hugh Kernohan, of Hyland Crest Home, Minden, spent a pleasant day with the Clarence Redners recently. While there, they were able to have a visit with Pat Limebeer and their brand new great grandchild.

The Stanhope Library continues to do well. One day not long ago, during library hours, a surprise guest was Mr. S. McDougall of the County Library System. Mr. McDougall was very pleased to see the library in action and was much impressed by the number of registered members and by the number of patrons there exchanging books and asking for assistance for projects, etc. while he was present.

Mr. & Mrs. Cyril Finch had all their family members home for the Easter weekend.

Mrs. Violet Smith and Mrs. Alice De Haan have just returned from a week's visit in Acapulco, Mexico. They report having a most enjoyable visit. Too bad they found such cold, unpleasant weather on their return.

The sympathy of the community is expressed to Mrs. Stuart Dawson on the sudden death of her brother John Hewitt of Minden. John was well known throughout this area and will be missed by many. Special thoughts of all are now with Cora, Lewis, Eleanor and families. May God's blessing rest upon them at this time and help to ease their sorrow.

Mrs. Winnifred Johnson was pleased to have as Easter weekend guests, her son Bill, of Toronto, and also Mr. & Mrs. Murray Hughes of Lakefield.

Several of St. Peter's Church people attended the Easter Cantata at Zion Church, on Good Friday evening. What a beautiful service! Congratulations to all choir members who took part. Although we miss Cathy Kinsman's beautiful voice in St. Peter's, we think it is wonderful that she is continuing with her music and we believe she is doing a wonderful job. We are proud of you, Cathy!

Don't forget the Tuesday Combines Card Party in the Recreation Centre, at West Guilford, Thursday, April 14, 8:00 p.m. Come and join with them and have an enjoyable evening. The Bowling League has just a few nights of the year's series left so this card party will no doubt be their last one this spring.

Mrs. Judy Wilkins (McCann) arrived Friday morning to spend the Easter weekend with her aunt and uncle Ada and Wilbert Gibbs. While present she helped to celebrate the birthday of another aunt, Isabelle Gibbs. Happy Birthday, Isabelle.

Friends of Mr. Holly Dawson were pleased to see and greet him while he was visiting family members over the weekend.

The Elmer Downs family are busily engaged furthering the completion of their year round residence on the south shore of Maple Lake.

We are sorry to learn of Richard Kinsman Jr.'s accident and injury recently. We trust all his trouble isn't too serious.

The Mervyn Sisson's of Orillia gave Uncle Oscar Sisson an unexpected visit recently. The newpews and nieces all like to keep a check on the old uncle to warn him not to overdo things.

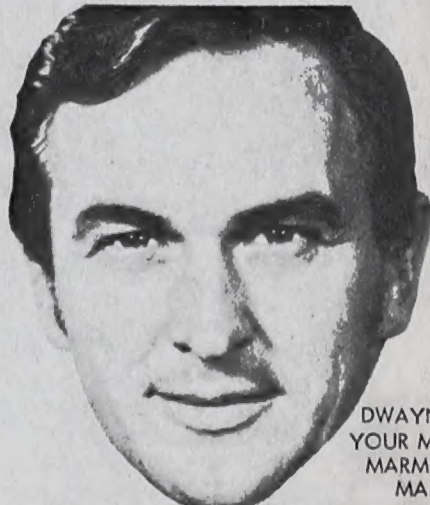

Friends of Miss Wendy

Kinsmen gave her a shower last weekend in preparation for Wendy's wedding bells which are about to ring. Congratulations and all good wishes Wendy.

The sounds of the hammer and the saw are heard around Ray Welch's these days as he is having modern changes made and renovations done around the old homestead where Ray and his family are now living beside the Welch's Store.

By the grapevine we hear that the Jim Foster's, the Bob Patten's and the Richard Kinsman's have been away on a frolic to Wheeling, West Virginia.

County sports

BY JIM BADGLEY

Last week I mentioned that physical fitness, or at least staying physically fit is becoming one of the great participation sports in Canada.

After the column was written I received an envelope from Participation, which for those of you who don't know is a federal government program that helps push Canadians to stay fit.

Now I had already received Participation's fillers for the year, so I opened the envelope with the full knowledge that inside was something that would be different.

Well Participation has come up with something different. Along with the Sun Life Assurance Company and Kinsmen Clubs across Canada new types of parks are being constructed, called Participarks.

According to the news release a Participark is a fitness trail with 11 activity stations spaced along its length. The concept originated in Europe and the use of the trails in many countries has become a way of life.

As could well be expected the release states "The idea has literally "taken off" with Kinsmen Clubs from coast to coast."

It points out that close to 200 clubs are now proceeding with the idea and it is conceivable that within five years, there could be 1,000 Participarks in Canada.

Anyway, for those of you who know me, you realize that physical fitness is not exactly my strong suit. Although I don't think I am quite as out of shape as I look.

I can still walk around a golf course a few times a day and hit the ball as well at the end of the day as I did at the beginning.

A couple of weeks back I even quit smoking and believe it or not have stuck to it so far.

Who knows, I may even take up jogging or something someday. Maybe!

The Stanley Cup playoffs got underway last week, and as usual I will make my predictions. The only thing for sure this year seems to be who will win the Stanley Cup. The Montreal Canadiens have fielded probably the best team they have had since the late 1950's, possibly even the best team they have ever had.

For the rest it will be a scramble. Some teams have improved while others have slipped back. Philadelphia isn't as good as it used to be, while Boston is getting back some of its' old flair.

Watch for a few surprises, but don't expect miracles. The Toronto Maple Leafs are no better then last year, possibly not as good.

COUNTY ECHO SPORTS

Physical fitness

by Margaret Milne

Now that spring is in the air, just about everyone's fancy turns to spending more time outside. The snow is nearly gone, and the earth will soon be dry enough that we can move about more freely, and enjoy the fresh air and great outdoors that we're so fortunate to have around us here in Haliburton.

It's also a good time of the year to give some thought to the state of one's personal physical fitness. Many of those who are involved in organized sports may be having a breather from them just now. And the many more of us who are not in organized sports, may be feeling the effects of less than enough exercise in the winter (and perhaps also more than enough food!)

This is the first of a series of articles on exercising to improve personal fitness. A good deal of publicity has been given to this subject in the last few years, but there is still much that bears repetition and further elaboration.

First of all, a person who wishes to improve in physical fitness, must realize that: the vital improvement to be made is in the ability of the heart and lungs to deliver more oxygen more quickly throughout the body.

Of course, strong muscles and flexibility in the body are desirable to have. But having these does not make a person fit. Exercises aimed at strengthening back muscles, leg and arm muscles, or abdominal muscles, are no doubt useful for doing just that. But they alone can not make a person fit.

What is needed, is strenuous enough exercise to develop the heart, lungs and vascular system (veins and arteries) so that more oxygen gets more quickly to the parts of the body that need it. This perhaps sounds abstract and technical and not very inspiring to the lady who wishes to become trimmer before bathing suit time, or the amateur athlete who only wishes to do better at his or her particular sport.

But exercise of this type answers many needs. Exercise that is sufficiently vigorous to benefit the heart and lungs, is also likely to trim the body and strengthen muscles. The really important difference that it makes, though, is in one's ability to work harder for a longer time without becoming so tired. A fitter person feels better after the day's work and reacts better to special stresses, whether psychological or physical. The fitter sports-person is more alert at the end of the practice or game.

What sort of exercises bring about this result? The best ones are easily available. Walking, running and jogging require only a pair of good jogging shoes. Bicycling is another good exercise. Swimming is another. There are many variations on these basic exercises e.g. stationary bicycling, stair climbing, (on a few stairs), rope skipping, running in place, and cross-country skiing.

Down Fenelon Falls

Minden Atoms zone champions

The Minden Red and White/Yake Electric O.M.H.A. Atoms are zone champions following a solid 4-2 victory last Tuesday, April 5, as they took Fenelon Falls in the final game of a three out of five series. Minden hit the scoresheet early in the first period as

Jeff Stamp scored from Kevin Warburton, but Fenelon ended the frame ahead by 2-1, adding their second goal with only 24 seconds remaining in period one.

In the second, Minden's Scott Yake scored the tying goals from Kevin Warburton and Jeff Stamp, and at 6:34 of the third, Kevin Warburton connected from Scott Hamilton to score the winning goal.

The insurance marker that put Minden on top 4-2 was scored by Yake with assists going to Scott Hamilton and Greg Newell.

It was a clean game that was enjoyed by a large crowd and was a fitting end to the season that saw high calibre hockey played by the Atoms from start to finish.

Hockey club travels to Oshawa tournament

Minden's Prentice Roads Pee Wee had a weekend away at the Little NHL Pee Wee tournament held in Oshawa. Minden didn't win any games, but it was still a weekend with some good hockey.

They played first on Friday, coming up against the Oshawa Country Strings for a match that Minden led 2-0 in the second period, only to be edged out 3-2 in overtime play.

With no scoring in the first period, Minden's Ivan Ingram scored from Jim McKelvey at the 1:08 minute mark. John McKelvey added the second for Minden, unassisted at 4:10.

Oshawa scored its three goals beginning in the second period at 8:40, and adding one in the middle of the third. Minden's efforts to keep Oshawa away from the net although consistent, still left them on the short end following an overtime goal at 2:54 of a five minute sudden death. Saturday, Minden's Pee Wees took on the Oshawa Canadians. The final score was 5-1 for the Canadians, dropping Minden out of the tournament. More than 24 teams were on hand for the three day tournament.

McKinlay leads in Tues. Combines

The Tuesday Night Combines, on April 5 were led in high triples by David McKinlay who bowled 256, 284 and 180 for a triple of 720.

Pearl Foster came second with 258, 263 and 193 for 714, and Danny Harding rolled 260, 247 and 158 for 665.

Fourth in the triple standings, but with a high score in one game of 346, Bruce Medcalfe Sr. totalled 658 with remaining games of 160 and 158.

Eva Piper had 233, 228 and 194 for 655, Art Beatty 245, 183 and 208 for 636 and Bruce Medcalfe Jr. 291, 150 and 173 for 614.

High singles came in from Mabel Medcalfe 274, Wilbur Gibbs 253, Jack Henderson 221, Gail Medcalfe 210, Marnie Bunn, 207, Peggy Henderson 203 and Gertie Ripley 200.

In the first week of playoffs teams headed by captains Stewart Dawson, Brenda McKinlay and Gertie Ripley are playing for first, second and third place spots. The standings are: Stewart Dawson 3137 points total, Gertie Ripley 2985 and Brenda McKinlay 2867.

IMAGE IMPROVED

At about the turn of the last decade there began what appeared to be an insidious effort on the part of the media to show snowmobilers in a bad light. We say "appeared to be", because we really do not believe it was a conscious effort to attack the snowmobiler, just the normal procedure of sensationalizing the news, which, after all, in the competitive business of selling copy is the name of the game. But the effect became very clear. Intentionally or not, the media was inciting the general public against the snowmobiler. This was very evident from the flood of letters to the Editor criticising the snowmobiler at his every turn.

We looked around at our snowmobiling neighbours. We could not see the animal chasing, fence cutting, hell raising demons of the picture the media was painting. We saw instead a group of very normal people, taking to the snowmobile as a means to at long last get some enjoyment out of winter. For the most part, sensible law-abiding citizens. But obviously there were a few exceptions. Fences were cut, animals had been chased, and occasionally some hell had been raised. Such stories in the newspapers could not all be refuted. Clearly, if the snowmobilers' image was to be prevented from sinking more deeply into the mud, something had to be done.

By their very normalcy snowmobilers of those days were a strange lot. They could accept criticism stoically, even shrugging their shoulders at outright insult. Stirring them to action in their own defence was not an easy task.

In those areas where groups of snowmobilers had banded together for better enjoyment of the sport, criticism was noticeably less severe. All across the snowbelt regions of North America writers, many taking pen in hand for the first time, began pounding the advantages of snowmobile clubs, and the drive to stem the flood of bad publicity was launched. The facilities of the media, particularly the opinion pages of small town weekly newspapers, were gradually, almost imperceptibly turned to the snowmobilers' advantage.

Early articles, hesitantly written, became regular weekly features. While the intent was to accentuate the positive side of snowmobiling, if snowmobilers needed taking to task, as they sometimes did, they could be raked most severely by a snowmobile writer. In a few short years, sensationalism in snowmobile reporting was effectively curbed, letters to the editor critical of snowmobilers all but disappeared, and editorial policy in many papers changed from bitter criticism of the snow vehicle to full support of snowmobiler organizations.

It was not all accomplished by the writers alone. There were also the pillars of the snowmobiling community who organized clubs and held them together. There were the strong-willed personalities who dug in their heels against adversity to demand their rights to better legislation and fair consideration. And there were far-sighted individuals who pressured manufacturers for safer machines and governments for safer facilities. And the thousands of volunteer workers who cleared and maintained trails to carry their fellow snowmobilers away from the points of greatest irritation. The writers merely started the ball and kept it rolling.

It became very evident at the recent convention of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs at Sault Ste. Marie that the scales of public opinion have finally begun to tip in our favour. Two Ontario Cabinet Ministers, The Hon. John Rhodes, Housing and the Hon. Frank Miller, Natural Resources, complimented the Federation's responsibility of leadership and pledged their Government's support and co-operation. Mr. Miller announced that next winter's trail funding program would be not less than a half-million dollars, and he invited the OFSC to sit down with his Ministry and the MTC to discuss a universal trail signing program. He said that Premier Davis was also much impressed with the work of the Federation, and would welcome an opportunity to discuss the Federation's long-range proposals. Since public policy is invariably geared to public opinion, such statements coming directly from Government heads must indicate that great strides have been made.

We look forward in the months ahead to bringing you great news from the fraternity of snowmobiler organizations.

Committee has food for thought

What do you need for a fair, and for food at the fair? The food booth committee of the Haliburton County Fair has its own ideas and they are materializing this week.

A dance, to be held this Saturday, at the Minden Community Centre, is a first step in raising funds for a gigantic barbecue already under construction by Jim Newell.

The barbecue is eight feet long, by two and a half wide, with a six foot rotisserie, powered by an electric motor. It will be mounted on a cement block firepit and could take a whole cut up steer.

The dance on Saturday, with square dancing, highland dancing and modern music, is designed to raise money for the food committee who are taking the step of having their own barbecue constructed for this year, so that a barbecue will not longer have to be rented and transported from Wilberforce.

With the new barbecue, the beef on a bun at the Fair will become a tradition, the Food Committee hopes.

Food Committee member, Loretta Nesbitt, said that people will come to know that there will be a barbecue at the Fair as surely as there will be cattle and horses.

In part, this depends on the success of the dance this weekend and the amount of support that the Food Committee receives April 23.

Entertainment at the dance will be provided by the Misty River Ramblers, with Leroy Nesbitt, Nelson and John Lester, Paul Lindhurst and Wendy Nesbitt-Billings. Don White will call the square dances.

A lunch will be served, of course, to complete the Food Committee's affair. Like the rest of the dance, it promises to be good.

The Food Booth Committee, associated with the Minden Agricultural Society, is not the only Fair Committee that has been working, planning bigger and better things for this year's Fair, but their large contribution, taking shape under the welder's torch, will be very much in evidence.

THE CONQUEST OF CALVARY

"I am He that liveth, and was dead, and behold I am alive forever more" Revelation 1:18.

The most startling event that ever occurred in the history of this earth is the resurrection of Jesus Christ. A dead body was taken off a Cross by sorrowing friends, enshrouded, and sealed in a tomb. A few days later these same sorrowing friends were astonished to see this "same" body walking around, alive again!

This is what the "resurrection" of Jesus Christ means. Resurrection literally means that something was dead and has become alive again. It is therefore very dishonest to speak of a "spiritual" resurrection of our Lord. How could His Spirit die? If His Spirit did not die, how could there then be a "spiritual" resurrection? The modernistic tendency to use the "language" of real Christian belief to betray true doctrine is one of the most dishonest aspects of the "apostate" church and its teaching in our day.

The resurrection of Jesus simply tells us that whatever part of Him died on Calvary, that part of Him became alive again. Death pertains to the body, and since only the body of Jesus died, it must have been His body that rose again. This fact stands out clear to all who desire to be honest in their study and teaching.

The great stumbling block to the so-called "modern-mind" in accepting this clear historical fact, is the miraculous aspect of it. For the dead to rise is contrary to natural law. Many of our humanistic teachers of today will not allow that God can accomplish anything that is beyond their comprehension and understanding. Thus the true object of their worship is their own mentality, anything superior to that they reject. Therefore, since they refuse to admit that God is able to operate on the plane of a law higher than their present understanding, they deny the resurrection as a reality.

In Jesus own words He tells us that He was dead, and is alive forever more. Rev. 1:18. Since this is so, then we who believe in Him as Saviour and Lord also share in His resurrection and shall also live "forever". What a blessed truth!

How important then to establish the reality of the resurrection! Is there any historical evidence that Jesus actually rose from the dead? Scripture states that there are "many infallible proofs". Luke 1:1-4, John 19:35, Acts 1:3. The best proof to a truly born-again Christian is the fact that he knows the living presence of the risen Saviour in his life. That resurrection life floods his very being and gives the "power" to lay aside the old sins of the flesh and live a life that pleases God.

The resurrection of the Lord Jesus forever stands as the evidence of a "finished work" on behalf of sinful man. Jesus came into this world to die and give His life a ransom for many. Math. 20:28.

Christ's life was not in vain. He was master of every situation. He won the victory over the "tempter". His enemies were defeated in every point of challenge, and His life brought redemptions purpose to a glorious completion. So much so that by His sacrificial death He was able to cry out loudly that "It is finished". Jehovah God raised Him from the dead as full proof of triumph over all His foes, and the "perfection" of His plan of salvation.

Not only did God raise the Lord Jesus from the dead, but He took Him on high, to His own right hand in the Heavens, where He is exalted Saviour, Lord, Head of the Church, High Priest and Advocate. This marvelous transaction is forever the hope of the lost. The veil in the Temple was sent and a new and living way has been opened whereby man can approach God.

The conquest of Calvary culminated in resurrection and gave ample proof that Eternal Life is to be found in no other name but the Name of Jesus. Acts 4:12.

News from Extendicare

BY CHARLES PLEWMAN

SHALL I COMPLAIN? FOR JOY THAT WAS, AND IS NO LONGER MINE?

Spring has Sprung -- All nature is vibrant with growth. Our planted cuttings and seeds are growing like a house on fire. What about ourselves. Are we also enthusiastic about life? Or are we suffering from "Spring Fever" which is another name for sleeping at the switch. We "oldsters" at Extendicare can scarcely be expected to be as enthusiastic or as rambunctious as you folk who are in the prime of life or younger and yet I have seen some fellows around here miss one half of their meal hour because they could not tear themselves away from what they were making in our craft shop. So long as something new grabs our interest at least we here will not become old fossils. Because Spring is a time of renewal and marvelous growth we who are younger should launch out on new ventures and try to maintain a zest for life. Its a greath thing to stand tip toe to life. If you are 30 or 35 and have not hit your stride you had better ask yourself why? He can who thinks he can.

On Monday, April 4th we had another work out on a fire drill. It makes a busy time for the staff with so many people in wheel chairs.

On Tuesday, April 5th Dr. Hartwick spent the afternoon here checking up on the health of the residents.

Bingo as usual was well patronized in the afternoon.

Wednesday the 6th - They have taken Mrs. Miram Lewis for Jury duty. We hope that she will be back soon.

On Thursday the 7th we held a well attended communion service presided over by our good friend the Rev. Trevor Denny. In the afternoon our group was busy coloring eggs for Easter.

Good Friday, April 8th our Devotional Period was taken by the Rev. John Smith of Lakeside Baptist Church. His theme was the Cross of Christ for our atonement and his rejection by his own people. He said His sadness was expressed in the words "Father forgive them for they know not what they do". Carl and Sharon Upton favored us by singing The Old Rugged Cross. We were pleased to have a number of visitors from the Baptist Church on this occasion. Mrs. May Ward officiated at the piano.

Saturday, April 9th a number of our residents are leaving to spend a part or all of the Easter weekend with relatives and friends. We appreciated the Palm Crosses made from palm tree branches and the Easter Greeting cards given to us by the children of St. George's Anglican Church. Many thanks.

On Easter Sunday afternoon we were visited by a tall Easter Bunny with foot long ears, portrayed by our nurse's aide Mrs. Joan Hutchings. She held an Easter Egg Hunt which was won by Raymond Smith. Easter favors made by the residents were passed out. Mrs. Mary Currah made the wicker basket carried by our Easter Bunny. We had a pair of bunnies from the Mother Goose Farm for a couple of days. Chas. Welch acted as bunny sitter.

On Easter Sunday the Salvation Army with their cadets conducted a nice service. Capt. Douglas Burry was in charge.

by Brian V. Sullivan

the Baptist. Today, we want to advance further in our study of John the Baptist.

Zacharias was performing his priestly duties in the temple when an angel appeared (Luke 1:8-11). The angel Gabriel told Zacharias his prayers were to be answered. We want to share with you the words of Gabriel to Zacharias. Luke 1:13 beginning: "Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb. And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God. And he shall go before Him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord."

Verse 18 of Luke 1 shows us that Zacharias lacked faith and a result would not be able to speak until these things were fulfilled. Coming forth from the temple, he could only motion with his hands, for his words were gone. He finished his duties and along with the rest of his course (other priests in that group) returned home. His wife conceived after his return home.

Among the things that Gabriel had stated was the instruction that the child was to be called "John". We find that when the child was so named, the father's voice returned (Luke 1:57-60). Further, the angel had spoken on 'joy and gladness' at his birth. Among the women who knew Elisabeth there was joy because one who had been so long barren was now with a son. Also, there was joy in the hearts of John's parents because of having a child in their old age. But, the greatest joy has to be in the realization that the coming of John meant that the Christ or Messiah was not far off. What joy that would bring!

Again, Gabriel had said: "For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord". This greatness of John is seen in the fact that he was the last prophet before Christ. Other's had hinted, or in some brief detail pointed to Christ who was to come, but here was one who was to break the silence of the inter-testament period, and point directly to Christ. Jesus himself said: "Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist" Luke 7:28. Next week we will look more closely at John's resemblance to Elijah the prophet.

EVENINGS BY APPOINTMENT

From the Chamber by Bob Stinson

In a recent newsletter we asked our members to return a questionnaire to us to help us in our future planning. We received 55 replies which we understood, is a good return for this sort of thing. We have now compiled the results of the survey and thought you might be interested in them.

Results

Do you read the Chamber Column? Always 38. Sometimes 16. Never 1.

Are you satisfied with this method of communication? Yes 42. No. 1. Abstained 12.

Do you consider your membership fees as - Advertising expense 29. Fee for services 22. A donation 13. Other 5. Abstained 1.

Do you expect to pay an additional fee for promotional costs when the Chamber undertakes a project? Yes 27. No. 22.

Would you participate in advertising promotions through the Chamber for an annual cost of: $500.00, $250.00 5. $100.00 13. $50.00 or less 11. Nil 15. Abstained 11.

Are you interested in advertising in - The Next "Lure" Book 32. Co-op Newspaper 11. On an Area Map 23. Co-op T.V. 11. A sign board at the office 17. Other 5. Abstained 12.

What percentage of our advertising budget would you like to see spent on the following seasons? Summer 34% Fall 17%. Winter 37%. Spring 12%.

Are you concerned that we may lose our G-65 signs that identify our county borders. Yes 53. No 2.

Do you understand the possible effects of the Provincial property tax proposals Yes 36. No 16. Abstained 3.

There was also space left to write in any suggestions that members may have and we did receive some very good ones. It was interesting to note that the one respondent who said they never read this column was extremely critical in this space. Not having ever read the column we wondered how they could be that aware of our activities to be that critical.

There were some interesting suggestions such as the erection of a promotional sign at the junction of Highway 48 at Cobocok to encourage tourists to turn North - Area Maps to cover winter and summer attractions separately. A seminar on the new property tax proposals and that we actively encourage the government to establish institutions here that will provide a tax base and employment.

Most of the figures do indicate a trend or direction we should take, but some are contradictory. Almost half said they wished to pay no more than their membership fees towards promotions and also signified either nil or $50.00 or less in the next question. Almost all of them then checked off more than one of the methods of advertising that would interest them. It would certainly be nice to be able to say that having paid your membership fees we could provide all these methods of advertising at no further charge, but it just can't be done.

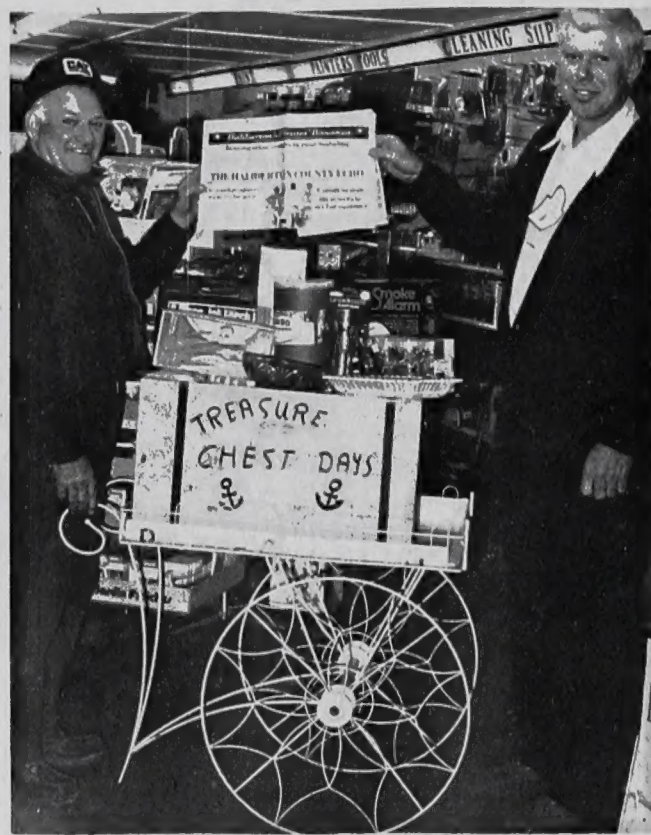

In regard to the property tax proposals we were surprised to see that 2/3 of the respondents felt they understood the effects. The Blair commission have completed their study now and we have received a copy of the "Report of the Commission on the Reform of Property Taxation in Ontario - Summary". Anyone wishing copies of this book may obtain them free of charge from the Ontario Government Bookstore, 880 Bay Street, Toronto, M7A 1N8. Among the recommendations is "That the government conduct 'Open house' sessions in the course of 1977 so that the public may be better informed as to the impact of market value assessment and tax reform measures as they will apply when implemented." We are attempting to arrange such a session for this area. The commission has suggested many changes in the original proposals and have come up with a much more acceptable set of recommendations as a result of their hearings. We shall be reporting further on this once our committee has studied the full report.

A newsletter is currently on it's way to all members which among other things has our proposals for a new membership fee schedule included. We hope all of you will look this over right away and indicate your feelings on it to us.

Congratulations to the Monmouth Arena Committee for putting on another great show. The Maple Syrup Festival was a huge success and throughout the activities we heard plans being laid to make it even bigger and better next year.

We would like you to welcome Tom and Jean Geddis to our business community as they have just taken over operation of Buckslide Camping Grounds on Kushog Lake. Previous owner, Orvall Ellis, tells us that he and his wife are going to build a home near Bancroft, so will be back to see us often. Best of luck to both couples in their new venture.

HIGHLAND CONSTRUCTION

R.R. # 2 HALIBURTON 457-1888

Home of the Week

PLAN NO 1787
WIDTH: 44 ft.

Designed for contemporary living and entertaining, this expansive family home has the exterior look of an Alpine Chalet. The overall width is only 44 feet and will comfortably fit the average lot.

On the illustration the exterior walls are covered in a texture stucco, with heavy shake shingles on the roof, and natural coloured brick at the front entrance. An alternative plan could be to replace the stucco with cedar or aluminum siding, or brick veneer and replace the shakes with asphalt shingles. Combining several of these materials, such as brick up to the first floor and siding on the balance, could create further interest externally.

The sunken living room, featuring a large fireplace and floor to ceiling windows at the front, can only be described as luxurious. With high vaulted ceilings running the length of the living room and dining room, and an open railing separating these two rooms, the feeling is no less than super spacious.

There is a pass through from the suite-size dining room, as well as a convenient pocket door to the kitchen. Both the dining room and nook are handy to the well designed and compact kitchen. Off the nook area an inner hall contains two large storage closets.

On the lower level the large family room has sliding glass doors to the rear patio. Adjacent to the family room is a large utility service core with a washer and dryer, vanity, toilet and shower. A separate room contains the furnace and hot water tank. The added luxury bonus of a private sauna has also been included in this service centre.

Across the hall is a large storage unit that could become a small workshop. For loading and unloading there is a convenient door to the double garage.

Luxury plus are the words to describe the master bedroom. A vast walk-in wardrobe complements the three piece shower ensuite. With sliding glass doors to a large private sun-deck, the bedroom itself is big enough for a good size suite.

The remaining bedrooms have full size closets and share a complete bathroom with a twin vanity.

Plans for design No. 1787 may be obtained at a cost of $70. for the first set and $9 for each additional set, plus $3.50 for postage and handling. B.C. residents please include 7 per cent sales tax.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs Series No. 33 featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas plus more than 300 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling). To order these items please send cheque or money order payable to the Home of the Week. Births

ROBERTSON: In loving memory of our dear parents, Myrtle, who passed away April 13, 1964, and Erastus, February 9, 1975.

There is a picture we tenderly hold,
Wonderful memories woven in gold,
Deep in our memories their pictures are kept,
To love and cherish and never forget.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed. The family and grandchildren.

Thank-You

I would like to express my sincere thanks to the nurses of the Minden Red Cross Hospital and to Dr. Brady for the excellent care they gave Mr. Milburn.

A sincere thank you to my family, Kinettes and friends for cards, flowers, visits, etc., during my stay in hospital and at home. A special thanks to Mom and Dad.

Marg Prentice

A sincere thanks is extended to neighbours and friends for flowers, cards, and inquiries concerning my health while in the hospital.

Special appreciation is due - Dr. Good, Dr. May, Dr. Meade, Dr. Clark, Dr. Smith, Dr. Sutherland, Dr. Fraser, Dr. Cheay, and the nursing staff of St. Joseph Hospital 3rd floor, for good care and pleasant stay. Also to the Ambulance drivers and staff of the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital.

Many thanks to Eagle Lake Women's Society and Eagle Lake Community Church and Health Unit nurse Mrs. J. Taylor.

The Lord Bless you All.
